10 Stakes "Accent Creative Teaching" At One-Day Workshop

A 10-stake experiment at 9 a.m. October 21, at the East Bay Interstake center, by 4 p.m. that afternoon became a universally accepted program to revitalize Sunday School Teaching, by the 900 plus who attended.

Titled "Accent Creative Teaching," the one-day workshop was organized and conducted by Sunday School Superintendents from 10 Northern California stakes.

Arthur D. Browne, who helped with the plans before he became a Sunday School general board member, presented the theme for the sessions which included three demonstrations of effective creative teaching in the morning; stage presentations of the use of the library and library materials; and a demonstration of lesson preparation; and four panel discussions, in the afternoon.

Dr. John T. Wahlquist, President of San Jose State College, was principal speaker.

Albert P. Heiner, member of the high council for Oakland-Berkeley stake, and a Kaiser steel executive, summarized conclusions of the day, the desire to improve teaching which was shown on the faces of all who participated, and thanked those who had the courage to tackle the workshop in order to meet needs expressed by Sunday School teachers from Northern California.

"Teaching is a creative thing—and there may be no more important hour than the one we spend with our Sunday School class," said Dr. Wahlquist who wrote "Teaching as the Direction of Activities" for the Sunday Schools of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

He urged teachers to: "be organized, be prayerful."

Hail The Dawn-Crashers

Young men and young women throughout the Bay Area are busy participating in a "club" which is looked on as one of the best—one that all desire to join . . . one that is praised by young people, parents, church leaders and the Lord.

And, it isn't hard to join the club. Any young person in the ninth through the twelfth grades can join the club. You don't have to be rich, you don't have to belong to high society. All you have to do is exert a little effort.

The club, called affectionately, "The Dawn Crashers" is easy to join for those who are going to amount to something in life . . . but it's a difficult club to join for "stay abeds" or someone with a "tomorrow mind."

All a person has to do to join is to sign up for seminary. Then, you can study the gospel together and prepare yourselves for better living now and hereafter.

We take this opportunity to recognize and pay honor to all those who participate in Seminary . . . students, teachers, parents, our early-morning drivers and members of our ward and stake education committees.

"The Messenger" Is Yours!

"The Messenger" is your newspaper . . . and the Lord's.

All of you should make use of "The Messenger" and should help this northern California newspaper serve as one of the Lord's tools to further His work in this land and in this time.

Your support and your criticism are invited.

For you who are members of wards, "The Messenger" will seek to serve as your reporter of ward and stake events—will help you keep in touch with friends from your ward who have moved.

For you who are stake and ward officers, "The Messenger" can serve as an invaluable aid in publicizing events, emphasizing important projects.

Following up the important contributions by I. B. Ball, Jean Paulson and Doug Paulson, your new editor prays that the spirit of the Lord will be with him that he might serve in a spirit of humility and love; that "The Messenger" will be an instrument in the Lord's hands to help further His work.

Third Senior School, Los Altos, Mt. View

A September 29 social heralded the beginning of another school for senior members of the Aaronic Priesthood and their wives from the Los Altos and Mountain View wards. Purpose of the social was to outline the school program for the 12 weeks, meet the instructor, Stake High Councilman Fred Crosshaw, get acquainted with fellow students, and enroll.

This school, third in a year for the two wards, enrolled 24 people, according to coordinator, Grant Y. Robison.

The Los Altos and Mountain View wards have found that schools for senior members of the Aaronic Priesthood have greatly accelerated advancements in the Priesthood, increased spirituality and attendance at Priesthood meeting, and contributed immeasurably in the building or strengthening of testimonies of members and their families.

Little Phrases

By Isaac B. Ball

Sentence are made of phrases, as "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name." While the sentence expresses a complete thought, oftentimes each phrases embodies a world of meaning that is easily overlooked.

For instance the phrase, "Our Father," in the sentence above signifies more than if it were simply, "My Father". "Our Father" reminds us that we are a brotherhood, a Holy Church, a family, a society in which the members are mutually responsible for another's welfare.

If Cain had had this prayer in his heart he never would have asked, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

Jesus made the Fatherhood of God the basic religion, and gave it its full meaning. He never referred to any one half so often as to his Father. He said that he spoke and acted only the things that he heard or saw his Father do or command him to do or say. He gave us the phrase, "Our Father."

God is never addressed as Father in the Old Testament, except a time or two as the father of the nation (Dt. 32: 6; Isa. 63:16). Jehovah of the Jews, Latter-day Saints understand, was indeed Jesus Christ. The doctrine of the Fatherhood of God was not generally understood except by the prophets until Jesus came, and was soon misunderstood again as it is in the world today.

To clarify the true doctrine of the Fatherhood of God and the Sonship of Jesus Christ was perhaps the deeper and the prime purpose of the appearance of the Father and the Son together before the Prophet Joseph Smith in the Sacred Grove in Manchester, New York in 1820.

The truth of a pre-existence with an actual Father, "Our Father," and an actual Mother, there, parents of all who have ever lived or will live upon the earth, gives the full meanings to the phrase, "Our Father." This truth reveals the natural care and interest of parents in us, their very children, who are here on earth from the spirit world for a probationary period of experience and testing.

Thus when we pray in the true spirit of the phrase, "Our Father who art in heaven", it comes about that we can feel the warmth of a real Father's love for us as we humbly worship and adore, striving in the meantime to serve him and obey his commandments.

It is then that we can begin to feel as Jesus must have felt when he went into the mountain alone and was all night in prayer to "Our Father."

ening of testimonies of members and their families.

The next school will start in January.

Winkels and Lanes Write Of Missions

Thys and Reba Winkel and Ralph and Erma Lane sent letters this month to their home ward, Alameda, about their missions.

The Winkles in Laren, North Holland, write they are seeing much of the country and meeting people of interest in their Missionary travels. Their Testimonies are being strengthened every day associating and working with Converts. They think nothing of walking 12 or 15 miles to attend Church meetings.

Thys says even tho his work keeps him literally hopping that he and Reba are enjoying better health than they have in years.

Tom is busy editing the Church News along with many other duties.

Ralph and Erma Lane, in West Hartle pool, England, are enjoying their new assignment. Ralph is engaged in helping the Saints build new chapels.

Erma is president of the Branch Relief Society. She, along with Joyce, puts in some time helping on the new Chapel at West Hartlepool. Now and then they see some of the landmarks of the old world. The Converts there have a very strong testimony and are eager for their own buildings despite the lack of funds.

"The Pajama Game" At Inter-stake Nov. 10

"The Pajama Game"—one of America's brightest and fun-filled musical comedies—will be presented for one performance only at the Inter-Stake Center, Friday, November at 10 at 8 p.m. by the Oakland Civic Ballet Company in a special benefit premiere for the 247th and 273rd Quorums of Seventy.

Joe Noriga—popular west coast stage and screen personality—will play the lead role of "Sid Sorokin" in the labor versus management musical comedy.

Appearing opposite Mr. Noriga will be the lovely and talented Miss Dottie Beebe—who scored a smash this summer as the pert "Nellie Forbush" in the Woodminster Theatre production of the famous "South Pacific."

Mr. Noriga is well-known to theatre-goers—having played the leads in "Damn Yankees," "Carousel," "Finian's Rainbow," "Naughty Marietta," "Guys and Dolls," "Li'l Abner" and "Annie Get Your Gun."

Rolf Tutschek, the noted German actor and director, formerly associated with Universal Pictures in Hollywood, will direct the tune-studded show.

Staging will be done by the well-known director of the Oakland Civic Ballet Company, Mr. Raoul Pause. The light and airy choreography will be set by Mr. James Piersall, an associate director of the Oakland Civic Ballet Company specializing in American folk dance.

"The Pajama Game" is the only musical ever produced that concerns itself with the labor-management relationship in American industry.

Louis Johnson and Wilford W. Pennock, of the 247th and 273rd Quorums, have announced that suggested donations for "The Pajama Game" will be 75c for students and $1.50 for adults. Contributions may be accepted by any member of the Quorum or at the box office of the Inter-Stake Center the evening of the performance. Additional information will be furnished by any Quorum president of the 247th and 273, or by phoning John Coulter at KEllog 4-8798.

The Oakland Civic Ballet Company, producers of "The Pajama Game," brought their highly successful program of "Beauty and the Beast" and "La Boutique Fantasque" into the Inter-Stake Center last season—and are looking forward to making their debut into the musical comedy field with their lively and humorous story of a pajama factory based on the book by Richard Bissell called "7½ Cents."

JOE NOBRIGA stars in "The Pajama Game" at the Interstake Center.

Anna Patton Writes of Calif. Mormons

"California Mormons by Sail and Trail," by Annalaeone D. Patton is now in print.

The book begins with July 31, 1846 when the Mormons chartered cargo ship docked at Yerba Buena (San Francisco), just three weeks after Captain John B. Montgomery had raised the stars and stripes at that port. It tells of contributions to Mormons colonists in California's pre-gold strike and pre-constitution days, and the first seven years of statehood.

Sister Patton has been permitted to sell the book from her home, 1915 Rose Street, Berkeley (LA 6-5850)

CINDY IS COMING

Odd Features of Welfare Cannery Interest S.F. Peninsula Observers

By Gay Taylor

While California is noted for the size and diversity of its packing industry, there is a cannery at Redwood City that is unusual enough to cause even an expert to shake his head.

The expert would note that this cannery operates only at night, ever in the daytime. A working force of from 60 to 80 men and women arrive each evening of the canning season, and yet the expert would rarely see the same face twice—there is a complete turnover in the labor force every day.

Peeking inside, the expert would note that hand labor was at a maximum, machinery a bare minimum; and yet the labor force works happily, joking and laughing and occasionally bursting into song.

The brand on the cans, "Desert," is one never seen in a grocery store, and if ht should ask where it is and if he should ask where it is never is sold.

There is no sign on the building, but the puzzled expert by asking would learn that this is the welfare cannery operated by San Jose, Palo Alto and San Mateo stakes on the San Francisco peninsula. All the work is on a volunteer basis, and while the plant is long on hand labor and short on machinery it turns out a respectable quota each year, this season's being 83,500 cans.

Under the general supervision of Dix Jones, with Ralph Martin operations supervisor, the three stakes'

Palo Alto: applesauce, 4069; Peaches, 30,000; Tomato Juice, 12,000; and peace jam, 500.

San Jose: pears, 16,000; tomato juice, 10,000.

San Mateo: Pears, 10,000; tomatoes, 5,000.

Each stake arranges for its own produce, and schedules its nights with its own labor at the cannery.

14-Day Shelter Test Shows Value of "Survival Pak"

How a man lived for two weeks in a fallout shelter, on a "Survival Pak" and how he fared, is covered in a report by Dr. Albert G. Noorda of Las Vegas, Nevada.

The two-week survival subsistence test was conducted at the Las Vegas Convention center, August 14-27, in an officially approved Civil Defense fallout shelter.

J. Dal Peterson, who volunteered for the test, entered the shelter with a "Survival Pak" consisting of 8.77 pounds of dehydrated, vitamin-mineral tablets, salt tablets, first aid supplies, and 69, 10oz. cans of 9-year old water, for the 14-day test.

"Before entering the shelter," reports Dr. Noorda, "a thorough physical examination was conducted, which included blood pressure, blood analysis, urinalysis, etc. A similar examination and tests were conducted at the end of the first week, and at the conclusion of the two-week period."

"The result of these failed to reveal any abnormalities from his ordeal," added Dr. Noorda. "Mr. Peterson lost a total of 6 pounds, and had 1.5 pounds of dehydrated remaining that hadn't been consumed."

Mr. Peterson did 70 push-ups when he emerged from the shelter—and was able to do only 45 before he entered the shelter.

"As a two-week survival kit this seems to be more than adequate," concluded Dr. Noorda.

Gold Nugget Rings For Brown-Larson

By Afton Eagles

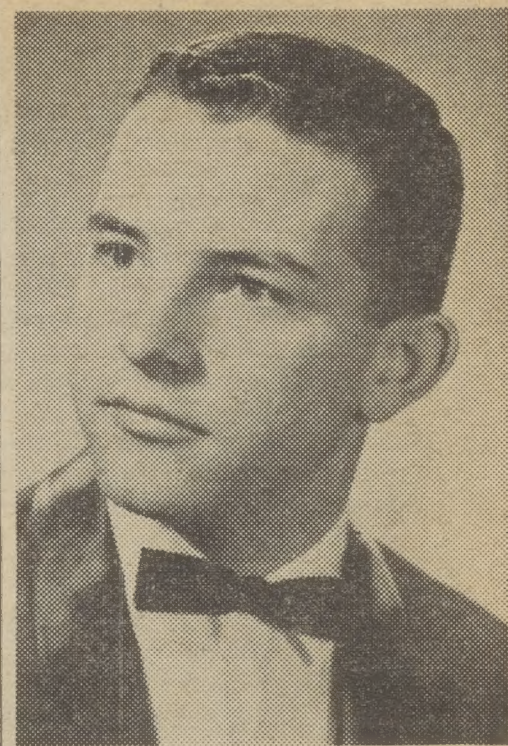

Alaskan gold nuggets, in matching wedding bands, were exchanged August 27, in Castro Valley by Phebe Amelia Brown and Air Force Captain Donald Spencer Larson, as they were married at the home of the bride's parents, Bishop and Sister Heber James Brown.

The rings were brought from Alaska by the couple who met in Fairbanks where she had been working with the Yukon command, and he had been flying the Alaskan route from McClellan Air Force Base, Sacramento.

He is son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis M. Larson of Cusick, Washington, and brother of Richard Larson of San Mateo who was best man.

Officiating for the ceremony was a long-time friend of the family, Bishop Paul E. Warnick of Oakland. Bishop Brown gave his eldest daughter in marriage.

A reception was held in the adjoining patio. The newlyweds have left for Sheppard Air Force base in Wichita Falls, Texas.

Wins Third at S.F. Show

figurinedraping, Vera completed the figurine which was inspired by her blond-haired niece who had donned a rose-colored dress for the senior ball. Processing the figurines requires draping with cotton lace, net, or textured materials; then saturating with porcelain slip (soft clay); burning out the cloth, and then fixing. The pattern of the material is left on the figurine.

Vera's first completed figurine was a DuBarry bust which stands 11 inches high.

MARIE Macfarlane, was first runner-up in the Miss Stylathon contest sponsored by Mt. Diablo chapter, California Cosmetologists' association. Second runner-up was another member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Jane Hornbeck of Martinez.

17 Scouts, Leaders Take 50-Mile Walk

By Willy Sorensen

After 50 rugged up-and-down miles of High Sierra trails; Sacramento meeting "beside the still waters" at Garnet Lake; singing by the campfire; and drying out after rain; 13 young men and four leaders from Livermore ward's Scout Troop 906 have returned to home and school with vivid memories of their week-long pack-trip.

The Yosemite valley may be easily reached by auto. By trail from Agnew Meadow (near Devil's Postpile), it's a far more eventful trip, which included, "sparkling lakes like Emerald and Garnet and Thousand Island; a thunder-shower near Rush Creek; snowball tossing a top 11,125 foot Donohue Pass; trail improvement in Lyell Canyon; swimming at Babcock Lake and in the Merced river; fresh apples and oranges at the Voleslang; our fill of dehydrated food (good and nourishing though it was); and staring tourists as we stumbled into civilization on the valley floor, safe, healthy and tired."

There was interpatrol rivalry between the Eagle and Falcon patrols; occasional meetings with others on the trail; and a constant attention to safety because help might be several days hike away.

The Eagle Patrol, led by Ronald Carling, included George Wilson, Dave Christensen, Tim Brandt, Larry Behling, Gil Turner and Buddy Owen.

White Falcons included Patrol Leader Dale Nielsen, Jr., Robert Ruff, Jim Lenz, Michael Greeno, Bill Jacobs, and George Marler.

Scoutmaster Lary McGrew was assisted by Bishop Glen Behling, Don Biery, and Bob Allen.

Most of the Scouts and their leaders qualified for the Scout 50-mile award.

NEW CASTRO VALLEY PRESIDENT

Dorothy Kinderd is the new Primarp President for Castro Valley ward. She moved into the ward in March from San Lorenzo ward, along with her husband, Hal, and family. Her new counsellors are: first, Aileen Hutchings, and second, Blanche Blackburn.

Alameda Ward

Douglas Gardner 8th Missionary

Alameda ward's eighth missionary Douglas V. Gardner, was honored at a farewell testimonial at the ward chapel September 10, prior to serving in the Center American mission. Douglas is the son of hapele eyo7-M

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel V. Gardner. Speakers were Robert Knudsen Charles Anderson, W. Paul Summrhays of the Oakland-Berkeley Stake presidtny, and Bishop George H. Pinckney.

The niteces of Albertina Nimitz treated her to a jet flight to Seattle to visit relatives, in honor of her eighty-sixth birthday. Delora Pugh, our former Relief Society president and her husband, Rolace and children, spent an evening visiting with her. Delora is working with retarded children in Seattle.

Leonard and Elizabeth Warren had an eventful time recently. First, they received their citizenship papers. Second, while visiting in Salt Lake City, they met the Elder who performed their marriage ceremony. Later they visited with Elder Forward who had labored in Alameda when he was on his mission. He has not fully recovered from the illness, about which interrupted his mission, but he now hopes to finish his mission.

Travel reports: Maybells and Harry Shelly flew to Alaska where they spent three weeks on the island of Metlakatla, visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Iona and Charles (Church) Stamps. Carol and Ross Durham are on a trip through Canada and the New England states. Milliam B. Schow represented the Bishopric at fall conference in Salt Lake City. Dallas Pocock accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Schettler, of the Fourth ward, on a trip to Nova Scotia and the New England states. Donna and Rollin Rice and children vacationed in Salt Lake City and visited a number of former Alameda ward members.

Rollin Smith who has been critically ill has improved enough to move him to the Veterans Hospital. Another recent patient at the Veterans Hospital as Claude Wall.

Ward Members extend their sympathy to James Wm. Patterson and family who were recently bereaved by the death of Mary Jane Patterson, beloved wife of James and the sister of Ivy Carlen.

We welcome Roberta Berrey and children back into the Ward, she spent the summer in Utah taking care of business while her husband, David, and daughter, Carol, remained here.

Chloe Kelly spent two months in Pocatello, Idaho, remodeling her home, where they plan to return when Brother Kelly retires. They were released as Stake Missionaries just before her departure, only to be called again shortly after her return.

Oscar Fontano recently returned from Salt Lake City after spending sometime with his wife, Milfred, who is ill. She will return home after completing a series of treatments.

Cinderella Looks For Her Prince

Has anyone seen a Prince? William Prince that is?

Cinderella has been leaving one shoe around in the hopes that William Prince will be found, and it's becoming difficult to walk around with on shoe.

Because he didn't show at recent auditions, the Theater Arts Guild asks for help in locating Williams Prince, the leading character in tht next TAV production, "Cindy" which is based on the Cinderella story. Cinderella will be played by Marilyn Nelson.

Requirements for the Prince: he must be of sterling character, tall, excellent hoice supple in war and demeanor, at home on the stage and handsome (at least with make-up).

Should a likely Prince read this story, he should call John B. Coulter, director, PE 4-8798, or Jim Call, producer, KE 2-3309, for an auditorium.

Theater Arts Guild is a Bay Area Theatrical group which will help polish talent and will help various organizations of the Church of Jesus Christ Latter-day Saints raise funds.

Daly City

Gifts, Baked Goods, At Bazaar

By Dorothy Hayes

Amanda Hurst and her Relief Society counselors, are preparing for the first annual Daly City ward Relief Society bazaar. Created in June, our warl is fortunate in having many crocheting, knitting, hemstitching, sewing and baking for the dinner at 8 p.m. November 11. After dinner, booths will offer gifts and baked goods for sale.

Sister Hurst was happy to announce at the opening social that the first project of the Relief Society, the procuring of the church silver, had been completed. She was enthusiastically supported by the sisters at the luncheon when they brought a large table of gifts to the table for her to open, which turned out to be a kitchen shower of knives, forks, serving spoons, bowls, towels, cleansers and spices.

Brothers and sisters of the ward are hearing about the new subscription drive for the official church organ, the Improvement Era. Subscribers are now to be given a wonderful opportunity to procure for their homes lithographed copies of famous religious paintings. The November issue of the Era will feature sixteen pages of full color photographs of the Holy Land. This will be accompanied by an article "In the Footsteps of Jesus". See your Era Director Dorothy Hayes.

Sister Phylis Evans has instituted the new teacher training course. The 20 enrolled meet in the Baptistry during the first part of Sunday School, then attend their regular classes. The course of study will run a school year.

Hayward Ward Mission News Notes

By Marjorie Simard

BYU students Barbara and Larry LaPray flew home to Hayward ward, to attend the farewell for their brother Hal before he left for his mission to Texas. Hal went deer-hunting with friends in Utah the week before he was to report to the Mission Home.

Word has been received here that Margaret McClellan suffered several broken bones in a fall down the stairs of the Montevideo, Uruguay home she and Bishop McClellan use as headquarters for their labors in the South American work mission. Their son Norman is an English school there, while Sharlene is pursuing her BYU studies by correspondence. Delna works in the office of the mission there, and Sheldon is on a mission to the Andes Mission in South America.

Fred Dahle, serving as supervising elder, is nearing the end of his mission to Guatemala. He has grown to love the people there so much that he hopes to return, perhaps in the diplomatic service, to continue to serve and help them. Fred is the son of Roy and Mary Dahle.

Barry Maashoff has been made second counselor to the President of the South Brazilian Mission, where he has been laboring for more than two years.

Serving as supervising elders are Chandler Shumate in the Western States mission, and Dean Bolles in the Brazilian mission. David Crockett is laboring in Clichy, France, ten miles outside of Paris. They are using the new approach and doing a great deal of tracting, too. Dennis Moffatt in Florida is traveling with the second counselor of the mission. Bernie Stewart is very busy in the Swiss Mission, preparing a conference which they expect President Moyle to attend.

Brother and Sister James Muir are now in Bristol, England, where they are looking forward to a more mild winter than they experienced in the northern part of the country. Their mission has been extended six months, and following that they will stay for another three months to do genealogical work.

Bill Barber To North Central States Mission

By Nanette Coulter

William James (Bill) Barber, Jr., will enter the mission home in Salt Lake City, November 27, and will go to the North Central States mission. His farewell testimonial will be held in the Oakland Third ward chapel, Sunday, November 12.

Bill, the son of William J. and Emily Barber, was President of his Senior class at Encinal High School from which he graduated in June, 1960. He served as Treasurer of the Student Body during the year he attended Oakland City College. His Church activities consist of service as an officer in his Priesthood Quorums and lately as chairman of the Youth Missionary Committee of the Oakland-Berkeley stake. He graduated from Seminary, completing four years.

Elna Bennett, wife of Dale Bennett, was honored at a baby shower, held last month. Barbara Bennett Hunsaker, husband Kent, and new daughter, Cynthia, are home in Oakland from their recent stay in Utah.

A "One-woman" exhibition of paintings will be held in the ward recreation hall from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Nov 23-26, by Minnie Jenkel who first started studying art at the Allendale school in 1937 under the auspices of the WPA program. Four 6x9 foot murals representing the four seasons will be featured. A spectacular 7 x 22 foot mural of the San Francisco waterfront has been acclaimed by critics. Admission is free.

The melodies of "Promised Valley" have hardly died away and we are now being intrigued by some original and equally lovely strains every Thursday evening. The original musical "Cindy" is being rehearsed and readied for production next January by "TAG", the Theater Arts Guild.

Eight Graduate,

Eight girls were graduated from the Hayward Primary at a special program held in the chapel. The girls: Barbara Simard, Rebecca Wilson, Fawn Stewart, Jane Smith, Tori Yeaman, Kathy Wallace, Penny Doty and Karri Forman.

Albert Dietliker Has Service Record

Albert Dietliker, who has served The Messenger for many years, making plates for mailing, has had to resign. He is succeeded by Clarence Dineen also of the Berkeley Second ward.

"I feel that Brother Dietliker is worth recognition not only for outstanding contribution to the success of The Messenger, but also on account of his other faithful services to the ward and to the church," says I. B. Ball, business manager of the Messenger.

Some of the services performed by Brother Dietliker:

Ward teacher in Berkeley Second ward; faithful attendance at Sacramento and Priesthood meetings; faithful service at the welfare center; assistant secretary of the High Priests of Berkeley Second ward; and he has supplied thousands of names for Temple work.

Known as a man who "is always ready for service," Brother Dietliker, besides all these church duties embossed hundreds of zinc mailing plates for the addressograph, each month.

He is Swiss born, where he accepted the gospel in 1887, and came to Salt Lake City in 1890. His trade over the years has been that of plumbing and steam fitter. He was married to Ethel Bradson in the Salt Lake Temple. In 1917 they moved to the Berkeley area. He retired in 1956, but since that time has never known an idle moment.
